CAUGHT AGAIN.

We publish to-day some interesting news from Washington concerning the investigation. It must be mortifying in the extreme for the Democrats to read the testimony of their two principal witnesses. One has volunteered to swear that he himself is the biggest liar on earth, so that his testimony is of no possible use; and the other, is Judge Levissee, of Louisiana, by whom the Potter committee expected to prove that one of the Republican electors never signed the returns and that his name was forged. In anticipation of this the Democrats had somewhat recovered from the shock produced by Anderson's excessive lying and matchless perjury, and called the Judge to the stand with some hope of getting something to sustain the charges against the Republicans. But by the mouth of their own witness they were condemned, and the Democratic members of the committee were overcome by disappointment, and became more than ever disgusted with the condition of things on their side of the house. Judge Levissee swore he signed the return himself. When he got fairly started in delivering his testimony, he threw the Democrats into perfect consternation. He went on to tell how one of Tilden's agents undertook to bribe him by offering him large sums of money for his electoral vote. He opened a rich mine for the Republicans, but the recital of how Tilden's man tried to induce, by the offer of money to do one of two things, vote for Tilden or not vote at all, made the Democratic members speechless, and put them in a more awkward position than they have yet been placed in. For the particulars we must refer the reader to the dispatch from Washington.

The question now is raised, "Who is being investigated, the Democrats or the Republicans?" Thus far, Potter, like Glover, is catching the wrong men. He is fishing for Republicans, but is catching Democrats.

THE TEMPLE OF HONOR WORK.

The third annual session of the Grand Temple of Honor for Wisconsin, finished its labors at Portage City last night. It was the most successful and significant session which has been held in the State. The attendance was large—the number present being over two hundred—and the enthusiasm and earnestness which prevailed were exceedingly refreshing and characteristic, and were never matched by any previous session. It would be impossible for one to glance over the two hundred delegates which represented the temperance sentiment of Wisconsin, and hear their remarks and witness their zeal, without being astonished at the wonders the Temple has wrought within the past three years. As a reformatory influence, and as a means by which drinkers and sots have been reclaimed, and transformed into sober men and industrious and respected citizens, its success has been incomparable. We don't think there is a town or a city in Wisconsin which can more deeply appreciate the grand work of the Temple of Honor than Janesville. If there are those anywhere who have occasion to thank God for what the Temple has done in the way of lifting men from the gutter, in rebuilding shattered homes in restoring men to business and prosperity, and giving them social positions, these very ones can be found in Janesville. We judge that to some in this city, the 29th of December, 1875, was one of the happiest days of their lives. It was then that Crystal Temple was born. To many it brought a new life. The men who had been overpowered for years by appetite, and who were well nigh lost, were at once delivered from the thralldom of drink; and the homes that were distressed, were showered with the benediction which Temperance offered. Since then, words cannot recount the deeds performed by Crystal Temple. It went on from conquering to conquer, and now there are pillars in the Temple which truly adorn it, and which are living examples of its remarkable influence and power. And it is an occasion for congratulation that some of them were placed in responsible positions by the Grand Temple.

The annual address which Grand Worthy Templer Watrous delivered on Wednesday, contains many important facts concerning the Order and its work in Wisconsin. It has been in operation in the State about four years. The right kind of men were brought out to lead the forces. Watrous took the lead and with matchless zeal and consummate skill, he began the war. Victory followed his line of march. In 1874 there were only two Temples in the State, and they were weak, and had a combined membership of less than 50. The Grand Worthy Chief does not need and can not receive a higher compliment than the bare statement that there are now about two hundred Temples with an aggregate membership of 10,000; and it should be borne in mind that during these four years the Temples of Honor throughout the State have done more effective work for Temperance, has reclaimed more drinking men which no other influence could touch, than all other agencies combined in a dozen years! The address of Mr. Watrous has been generally circulated and should be read carefully by every member of the Order. It contains a good deal of food for reflection, and very much to encourage and stimulate all Templers and Temples.

THE STATUTES.

The new revision of the Statutes has been adopted by both branches of the Legislature, and has been signed by Governor Smith, and hence has become a law. Whether good, bad, or indifferent, the adoption of the Statutes will be a source of relief to the legal fraternity of Wisconsin. For many years the revision of 1858 was so cut up by repeals and amendments, that it was difficult to understand what the statute law of the State really was. The new volume is an improvement on the old. It is smaller in size, more compact, and much of the matter has been simplified. Whether it is a "perfect code of laws" remains to be tested. However perfect it may be, it will not please everybody, and next winter we may look for a flood of amendments. Here is the trouble. Lawyers will not let the statutes rest in peace. If they were as perfect as the Ten Commandments, they would assume the right to offer amendments, and would finally destroy the statutes altogether. Under these circumstances we can hardly hope for a convenient volume of excellent statute laws. In less than half a dozen years, no doubt hundreds of amendments and repeals will pass the Legislature, and the statutes will be so much cut up that the present revisers will be unable to recognize their production. Some method should be devised to stop this constant tinkering of the statute law of the State. A little relief could be found in biennial sessions, but the exercise of "common sense" is the best remedy.

We gave the particulars some time ago of the burning of the records of Dodge county, whereby the county suffered a heavy loss. The records having been burned pretty much in the same manner not many months before, suspicions were aroused that the county treasurer was dishonest, and recently an investigation was ordered by a committee appointed for that purpose. The committee have reported and find that Traynor, treasurer, is a defaulter in an amount ranging from $16,000 to $20,000. County Clerk Gnewuch, is also charged with crookedness. Dodge county has been under the control of the Democrats as completely as New York city was under the rule of Tweed and his gang. Wherever they are invested with power, they will rob the people and plunder the treasury, and Dodge county is no exception to the rule. According to the report of the committee there is a deplorable state of things existing in Dodge county, and yet the Democratic papers which believe so much in reform, are silent on the condition of things in that unfortunate Democratic stronghold.

So far the account stands thus: Anderson, whom the Democrats now acknowledge cannot be believed under oath, says Sherman promised to reward him with an office if he would do certain questionable things connected with the election in 1876. Levissee, one of the Hayes and Wheeler electors in Louisiana whose integrity has not been impeached, testifies before the Potter committee, that the Democrats tried to bribe him by "a good round sum of money, say from $30,000 to $40,000," to cast his vote for Tilden. Who is ahead thus far?

The great harlequin of the Hayes administration, Stanley Matthews, will get his little "unauthorized" (?) dirty work carefully looked into by the Potter Committee, if it does its duty.—La Crosse Democrat.

Thus far Stanley Matthews is ahead, but what does the Democrat say in regard to Tilden's agent Asher, offering anywhere from $30,000 to $100,000 for the electoral vote of Levissee, of Louisiana. Is there any dirty work about that?

Mr. F. E. Fillmore has purchased the interest of his partner, W. D. Matthews, in the Beloit Graphic, and is now the sole proprietor and editor of that paper. The Graphic is an excellent local newspaper, and seems to enjoy what it deserves, a liberal support.

Watterson and Potter say if the investigation brings revolution and the displacement of Hayes, let it come. The New York Herald which is Democratic if anything, says "the idea that Mr. Hayes can be deposed without a civil war is sheer lunacy."

Another of the Mollie Maguires, Dennis Donnelly, will be hanged at Pottsville, Pennsylvania, on Tuesday next, the State Board of Pardons refusing to grant a re-opening of the case.

The New York Herald disposes of Tilden in this wise: "Mr. Tilden's income tax suit has been sent over to another term. His Prisidential suit is off the calendar altogether."

Orville Grant, brother of the ex-President, is again talking too much. He says the General will be a candidate in 1880, and that he will be elected.

Edison has another invention, one which will measure the heat of the stars. He already has 157 patents, and is working at several more.

Oregon had an election on Tuesday, and as usual, both parties claim a victory.

New York a Last Year's Bird's Nest.

Since the million-dollar Manhattan Market was opened in 1872—it was sold under foreclosure for $150,000—the number of stalls occupied has steadily diminished, until now there are only about a half a dozen. It covers about four acres, and looks like a mammoth bird cage, the sparrows having taken possession of it for the last two or three years, and built their nests and hatched their young in the trusses that support the arched roof overhead. Three ineffectual attempts have been made to drive the sparrows out of the building but they are now more numerous than ever.

DROWNED.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., June 6.—James Shaughnessy, aged 21, a son of Lieutenant Shaughnessy, of the police force, was found floating in the lake to-night by the officers of the tug Maxon. He has been missing since morning. No cause is assigned.

The Assassination of All Sovereigns Threatened by the Friends of Nobeling.

LONDON, June 7.—It is stated that the Berlin Criminal Court has received several letters threatening the assassination of all sovereigns if Nobeling is harshly treated. The number of arrests in Prussia for disloyal utterances is increasing significantly.

A Berlin dispatch says Bismarck's nervousness has so increased since the attempt on the life of the Emperor that it is expected it will be necessary to appoint a colleague.

The Legislative Solons Closing the Extra Session.—The Greenbackers.—Aquatic.

MADISON, May 7.—Both Houses spent the morning in filibustering over the bills providing for the printing of the Revised Statutes and the compensation of the Revision committee; the result being they were passed, compensation being finally fixed at $425 for each member of the Committee, it being a compromise between $350 and $500.

An attempt was made to get through a bill, regulating the Court term of St. Croix county; but, though the Senate passed it, it was killed in the Assembly.

The joint resolution adopted in the Assembly providing for an adjournment at three o'clock this afternoon, but the Senate will not concur. An adjournment may be reached at the evening session.

The Yacht Club will hold a home regatta to-morrow for the club pennant on Fourth Lake. A general regatta, open to all will be held July 17th. The principal prize is a hundred and fifty dollars. Entrees are all in for the Mississippi Amateur Rowing Association regatta at Peoria. Secretary Thwaites will announce them to-night. St. Louis, Burlington, Moline, Milwaukee and Madison will be the only competitors in the senior four oar shells. It is supposed the chief contest in this race will be between Modocs of St. Louis and Madisons.

THE TEMPLE OF HONOR.

Special dispatch to the Janesville Gazette.

PORTAGE, June 7.—The Grand Council of the Temple of Honor concluded its business yesterday afternoon, and adjourned to meet in Racine the third Monday in June, 1879.

The Grand Temple also closed its session yesterday afternoon, and adjourned to meet in Racine the third Tuesday in June next year.

Last evening the Grand Temple held an open meeting in the Court House. A large audience assembled, and stirring addresses were given by W. H. Norris, of Green Bay, E. L. Dimock, of Janesville, S. J. Conklin, George A. Austin, and A. D. Wickham, of Janesville.

TOTAL ABSTINENCE.

The Catholic Temperance Convention —The Officers—The Next Convention

OSHKOSH, Wis. June 6.—The State Catholic Temperance Convention has adjourned. It began to rain this morning, and the procession was not formed until after 12 o'clock, when about one thousand delegates and members formed in line, and to the music of five bands, with banners flying, marched through several of the principal streets to the fair-grounds. On reaching the grounds the rain began to fall again, which necessitated taking refuge in the fair buildings, where a picnic dinner was served, and several speeches made. Notwithstanding the large crowd in attendance during the convention, nothing occurred to mar the harmony of the proceedings. Following is a list of the officers-elect: President, James O'Malley, of Oshkosh; Secretary, M. Collins, of Stevens Point; Treasurer. E. P. Boland, of Green Bay; delegates to national convention, Fathers O'Malley, Willard, and Fairbanks. The next convention will be held at Milwaukee.

DEMOCRATIC ROGUERY.

What was Brought out in the Potter Fraud Committee—They Have Got a Tartar.

WASHINGTON, June 6.—The Democrats caught a Tartar in the Potter committee to-day. They had as a witness Judge Levissee, a distinguished native Republican of Louisiana, who was a Union man during the war, and who recently served as one one of the Hayes electors in Louisiana. The story of how Tilden men in New Orleans tried to buy up Judge Levissee has been printed again and again in the newspapers, and has been told by him before two investigating committees. The Democrats made him go over it again to-day in their committee, and succeeded in getting a very plain and direct statement of an attempt of their party to corrupt an elector. This examination was, however, merely preparatory to something else they expected to prove. It has been frequently said in newspaper reports that Judge Levissee did not vote for Hayes at the meeting of the Louisiana electors, but cast a blank ballot. This story he disposed of after a long and tedious examination by stating that the ballot he cast had the names of Hayes and Wheeler upon it, and that to identify it he wrote his own name upon the back, as did all of the other electors. Then the committee attempted to find a flaw in the President's title by proving that the returns from Louisiana which were counted were forgeries. This was the most serious part of the whole scope of the investigation, and the Republican members of the committee trembled lest Levissee should be entrapped, or go willingly into a statement that his signature to the returns that were counted was a forgery. When the Louisiana electors met, and cast their votes, they sent, according to law, one copy of the returns to the President of the Senate by mail, and another copy by messenger. After they had been deposited in Senator Ferry's hands, some timid and reckless ones feared that a mistake had been made in the form of drawing up the returns, so they proposed others, and the signature of the electors were attached to them. Judge Levissee was absent, and his signature could not be obtained, so it was forged by some person unknown, and of this the Democrats were informed. But Senator Ferry was on his guard when the votes came to be counted, and opened the true returns. But the false returns were kept with others in the files of the Senate. During the examination, Mr. McMahon handed Levissee one of the false returns, folded up so that he could see nothing but a signature. Then McMahon asked: "Is that your signature?" Levissee replied: "It is not." This was a very critical period in the examination. McMahon handed him another return, similarly folded, and asked if that signature was genuine: "It is not," replied Levissee again. "Well, said McMahon, handing the witness a third return, "how is that?" "That," said Levissee, "is my signature," and Governor Cox grabbed up the three returns to see whether or not the Democrats had succeeded in their scheme. He drew a breath of relief, as did the other Republicans, when it was found that the signature the witness identified as genuine was attached to the return that had been counted by Congress and considered by the Electoral Commission.

It was a difficult matter for Levisee, as the forgeries were very close imitations of his signature. A nervous man would have made the Republican party some trouble, but Levissee was cool, and although he answered promptly, he did not lose his wits.

After Levissee's examination was concluded the committe held an executive session, and received a resolution on behalf of the Republicans calling for the summoning of witnesses to prove intimidation in East and West Feliciana Parishes, of which Anderson, in his testimony, professed to be ignorant; but it was voted down by the Democrats, who refuse to go back of the electoral count in the investigation.

THE NORTHWESTERN.

The Annual Election—A Victory for Both the Gould and the Keep Factions.

The Chicago and Northwestern election yesterday passed off with an apparent victory for the Keep faction. The fact is both parties gained their point, and the vote cast was an unanimous one agreed upon. Mr. Keep remains President and his pride is satisfied, and his Dutch friends are molified while by the terms of the compromise, Mr. Gould's name heads the Executive Committee, and he is supported by his friend Frank Work.

The election of officers by the directors resulted, of course, in making Mr. Albert Keep, President; M. L. Sykes, Vice President, Secretary and Treasurer; S. O. How, Assistant Treasurer for New York; and J. B. Redfield, Assistant Secretary in Chicago. The rest are appointed by the President. The Executive Committee, appointed by the Board, stands as follows: Jay Gould, David Dows, W. L. Scott, Albert Keep, A. J. Dulman, D. P. Morgan and Frank Work; Gould, Morgan, and Work take the place of J. M. Burke, Sykes, and Porter.

The election of officers of the proprietary lines, the St. Charles railroad company, the Elgin and State Line railroad company, the State Line and Union railroad company, the Rochester and Northern Minnesota railroad company, the Minnesota Valley railroad company, and the Menominee river railroad company took place, and no change was made. In the case of the Chicago and Milwaukee Railway, Mr. J. H. Howe was elected President, in place of Albert Keep, and Albert Keep was chosen in place of Mr. M. L. Sykes, Jr.

In the main election 311 008 shares voted out of a possible 416,478. The financial statement was made, the fiscal year not ending at this time.

Northwestern Christian Advocate.

Great events may depend upon the political complexion of the next House of Representatives. We do not care to advise any person to vote for a particular ticket,—but we will repeat a Democrat's advice: When the conventions meet this summer, nominate, and, next fall let the people elect men who will stand unflinchingly against every and all attempts to endanger the Union. Send wolves, tigers or snakes to Congress rather than a purchasable Republican without principle, or a Democrat capable of defection to the Union even were he offered the presidency of a new republic erected upon the ruins of this. The manly Democrat we quote, believes the Union requires a safe House, since the Senate will unquestionably belong to his party.

Mr. Clarkson N. Potter, who leads this treasonable investigation committee is no Washington or Lincoln. He whines pitcously in public about fraud, while he whets his teeth in private to gnash them against the peace and perpetuity of the republic. God pity him if he raises his hand as the tool of any man or clique, to incite revolution or indirectly provoke war. But, already, public opinion warns him, and the important concession is finally made that the committee shall sit with open doors.

Pray for the republic—but let no voter go to his knees until he promises God that he will go to the polls this fall and do his duty there. Let every pastor speak out. A church of sixteen hundred thousand members has power with God, and our eleven thousand pastors will serve as an army—each a general. We suggest no party lines, but be sure to preach, pray, vote, and if necessary, fight for the republic. Traitors shall not take the helm.

THE VETERAN VOLUNTEERS.

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., June 5.—The Twelfth Corps, Army of the Potomac, and organized association of the Twentieth Corps, voted to meet with the Army of the Potomac next year. The fifth corps passed a vote of thanks to President Hayes for re-opening the case of General Fitz John Porter. The sixth corps re-elected General Totta President.

At the general meeting of the society of the Army of the Potomac, the President, General Slocum, was in the chair. Rev. R. D. Mayo, of Springfield, offered a prayer. Rev. Henry Ward Beecher, who was the orator of the occasion, was introduced as America's orator, who faced the people of England to present the cause of the North. Generals Hooker, Sickles Hartranit and others made brief speeches. At the mention of the names of Governor Andrew, General Custer and Admiral Farragut the applause was demonstrative, and three cheers were called at the mention of the name of General Grant. At the business meeting which followed, General W. B. Franklin was chosen President of the society of the Army of the Potomac.

General Sherman sent this letter to the 9th army corps meeting:

HEADQUARTERS ARMY OF THE UNITED STATES, WASHINGTON, May 28.—C. H. Barnes, Secretary Burnside Expedition—MY DEAR SIR:—I beg you will thank General Burnside for his kindly remembrance of me in connection with the banquet, designed to commemorate the glorious expedition during the civil war. Convey to him my sincere regrets that appointments heretofore made for the month of June make it simply impossible for me to be at Springfield on the 4th prox. I approve highly these army meetings and banquets, for there is real danger of our soldierly masses may again as in 1861 be misconstrued. The men who filled the ranks of our Northern army were of the most industrious class, who now again are so immersed in business matters as not to hear and heed the violent harangues of another kind. Therefore I hope you will have at Springfield a full representation of the old 9th army corps, and that you will speak right out and to the point, that the enemies of our country may not again commit the fatal mistake of rushing into civil war.

With great respect, your friend,
W. T. SHERMAN, General.

THE SUMMER OF '78.

What the Weather-Wise Vennor Has to Say on the Subject.

From the London, Ontario, Free Press, May 25.

It may be of interest to farmers and others just now to know what the "probabilities" are for the next two or three months. These I shall give just as I find them in my own private note book, and under the heading of "Impressions of the Weather," written over the same date as that which I predicted the late "relapse of the weather with snow and flurries." My impression is that the present wet turn will continue close upon the middle of June with, on the whole, cool weather, but occasionally a couple or more days of sultry heat. The latter part of June will be intensely warm, with but little rain. July will enter with intense heat, and will continue up to the neighborhood of the 15th. After this date a cool and cold change will set in, with, very probably, frosts at night. Heat again during the last few days of the month. August will also enter exceedingly hot and dry, and continue so up to about the middle of the month, after which cool weather, with frosts at night, and northwest gales may be expected for a large portion of the remainder of the month. This will end the dry term.

September will probably commence and continue wet, and so will October, and it is my firm belief that there will be a considerable and very early snow fall during this latter month. This snow, however, will, of course, rapidly disappear, and will be followed by a brief period of summering weather again.

November is not yet clear to me, and I shall defer sketching its behavior until a later period. But at present I hold forth as almost certain a wet autumn, lasting in all probability through September, October, and November. In fine the whole summer will be exceedingly short, with sudden changes from intense burning-up heat to cool and even cold weather. The frosts expected are likely to occur along the Ottawa valley, through a large portion of the valley, through the bordering portion of Eastern Ontario.

HENRY G. VENNOR.
Buckingham, Quebec, May, 1878.

A Working Cabinet.

H. V. Redfield, in Cincinnati Commercial

I venture that the President will retain the cabinet he has until the end of his term. Grant was continually changing his cabinet, putting out that man and putting in another, so that the total of cabinet officers he created during his term was 23! He added much to the temperature of the hot water in which he continually found himself by this course, for each removal led to a row of greater or lesser dimensions. The President is pleased with each member of his cabinet; he thinks he has made fortunate selections, and that they are operating the various departments in the interest of the whole people, whose servants they are. By any amount of changing about he could hardly get a more honest, economical, efficient end laborious body of men than the present cabinet officers. They are not showy men, but they have the qualities which wear well. They do not set the bad example of giving "grand entertainments," to be followed by others who haven't money of their own, and must therefore use somebody else's, but they live plain and economically, as befits officials of a Republic. It is said that they all live within their salaries, except Evarts, and he has a considerable bank account of his own. A majority are poor men—working men, one may say—who have no outside fortunes to draw upon to maintain "style" here. It is well that it is so. Examples of extravagence in official life are contagious. A lot of poor devils, with little brains and less money, attempt to follow, and land in bankruptcy, with nobody to mourn them but their creditors. The plainness of official life here is a wholesome example

A Rosy Future.

Detroit Free Press.

They were in the bell-tower of the city hall yesterday, and she leaned her yellow-haired head on his agricultural shoulders and listened to the mighty "tick! tack! tick" of the big clock.

"We don't want such a big clock as that, do we, darling?" she whispered.

"No, my little daisy," he answered, as he hugged her a little closer, "I kin buy a clock for $2 which'll run three days to this clock's two. I've got her picked out already."

"We'll be very, very happy she sighed.

"You bet we will. I've figured it down fine, and I believe we can live on twelve eggs, one pound of sugar, ten pounds of flour, and one pound of butter."

"And you'll have a bank account?" she pleaded.

"I will, even if I have to buy a second hand one."

"And will you keep a coachman?"

"Yes."

"And have a piano?"

"Yes, darling."

"And I can have some square pillows with shams on them?"

"Yes, my tulip—yes: we'll sham every durned thing from cellar to garret; have the front door painted blue,—but let's go'n look at some second-hand cook-stoves."

The Prevention of a Terrible Disaster

No disorders, excepting the most deadly forms of lung disease, involve such a tremendous destruction of organic tissue as those which fasten upon the kidneys. Such maladies, when they become chronic—and none are so liable to assume that phase—completely wreck the system. To prevent this terrible disaster, recourse should be had, upon the first manifestation of trouble, to Hostetter's Bitters, which experience has proved to be highly effective as a means of imparting tone and regularity to the organs of urination, as well as to the liver, stomach and bowels. Another beneficial result of this medicine, naturally consequent upon its diuretic action, is the elimination from the blood of impurities which beget rheumatism, gout, dropsy, and other maladies. By increasing the activity of the kidneys, it augments the depurative efficiency of those organs, which are most important outlets for the escape of such impurities. ju4deodw1w

SAFETY WITH SAFETY LAMP. | DANGER WITH COMMON LAMP.

The Japanese Idea of Hell.

New York Tribune.

One of the curious articles exhibited at Tiffany's is a scarf of gray Canton crape, which portrays the infernal regions, according to the Japanese idea. The scarf is nine yards long and half a yard wide. The first scene represents Satan on earth seeking new victims. The arch fiend appears as a sulphuric, yellowish-green demon, with protruding horns, cloven feet, and a demodical expression, luring his victim into his net, and plunging them into fiery depths. They appear to fall into a nest of burning scorpions, where they are tantalized by a glimpse of their friends enjoying themselves in a lake of cool water. In the next scene, Satan takes the form of an immense dragon, with his human victims crouching in terror at his feet. They are mercilessly dragged into court and the judge is represented as condemning them to be tied to rocks, and to have red hot lead poured down their throats. They are then chased by hyenas through a field of open knives and other sharp instruments. The victims are next portrayed as being tortured by having their limbs sawn off and by being thrown into a revolving wheel of fire. Satan next appears to be looking out for new victims on a field of battle. Some of these victims are made to hug red-hot stove-pipes, while Satan himself, with a smile, is fanning them. Others are swimming in seas of blood, surrounded by laughing demons. Others, still, are seated in a cauldron of red-hot sulphur, having their tongues pulled out. Some are represented as carrying heavy burdens of coal and throwing it into the fire to burn new victims. His satanic majesty is next represented as feeding his subjects with rice, presumably to give them strength with which to endure greater torture.

The Biggest Plow in the World.

From the Dubuque Herald.

About a month ago the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railroad Company gave an order to the celebrated plow manufacturers, Hirshheimer & Barclay, of La Crosse, Wisconsin, for a plow to be built according to the drawings furnished, which should be the largest plow in the world. When at La Crosse the other day, we were invited to see the monster on the stocks and to take its measurements. The plow being now ready for delivery, we give some weights and dimensions which will enable one to form some idea of it. The share weighs 382 pounds, the mold-board 180 pounds, the beam 900 pounds, the coulter and clasp 180 pounds, the clevis 60 pounds, the standard 134 pounds. The sizes of the principal parts are: The beam is 16½ feet long, 10 inches wide and 17 inches thick; the land slide is 9 feet x 5x2 inches, the standard 40 inches x 7x1½ inches, the mold board 8 feet by 26 inches, the share 5½ feet by 12 inches. It will cut a furrow 37 inches wide, and is expected to go through any obstruction which comes in its way. The plow will be shipped to George W. Sanborn, Superintendent of the Iowa and Minnesota division of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railway, Mason City, Iowa, and will be used in railroad construction, the team attached to it being a locomotive. The railroad company look upon it as an experiment, but the builders are confident it will prove a success, and will vastly cheapen the ditching of railroads across our broad prairies.

A Romatic Wedding.

New York Times: The steamship La Place yesterday landed at Castle Garden Master Antoine Lepporase, an Italian, aged 18, who could not speak a word of French or English, and Catherine Alligon, aged 16, a French girl, who could speak only French and English. During the voyage Lepporase fell violently in love with Catherine, but could not make his passion known to her except by his looks. He had plenty of money, and she was poor, and with art the Italian managed to let Catherine know what a good speculation she would make by receiving his advances. She responded afterward. When the pair reached Castle Garden they made known to Interpreter McPherson their woes and wishes. Lepporase told McPherson that if he was delayed another day in his determination of marrying Catherine he should go mad, insisted that the ceremony should be immediately performed and demonstrated his financial ability to care for the bride. Catherine being willing, the pair were taken before Rev. Mr. Birkmeyer, at No. 16 Battery-place, but he refused to marry them. They were then taken before Justice Murry. He consented to join them. Mr. McPherson acted as interpreter, and Mr. Charles Washburn gave the bride away. She looked pretty and cried sufficiently to make herself very interesting. The ceremony was performed in the Justice's private room in the presence of a large crowd.

HAS met with unparalleled success in the treatment of all

Chronic Diseases

—OF THE—

THROAT, LUNGS, HEART, STOMACH, LIVER.

Dr. Price's reputation has been acquired by candid, honest dealing and years of successful practice.

My practice not one of experiment, but founded on the laws of Nature, with years of experience and evidence to sustain it, does not tear down, make sick to make well; no harsh treatment, no trifling, no flattering. We know the cause and the remedy needed; no guess work, but knowledge gained by years of experience in the treatment of Chronic diseases exclusively; no encouragement without a prospect. Candid in our opinions, reasonable in our charges, claim not to know everything, or cure everybody, but do lay claim to reason and common sense. We invite the sick, no matter what their ailment, to call and investigate before they abandon hope, make interrogations and decide for yourselves; it will cost nothing as consultation is free. Visits made regularly.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.—County Court, Rock County.—In the matter of the estate of John Brown, deceased.

Letters of administration having been issued this day to Clark E. Ranous and the time for creditors to present their claims for allowance having been limited to the 10th day of September next, notice is hereby given that the judge of this court, at his office in the city of Janesville, in this county, on the 10th day of September next, from 1:30 o'clock p. m., to 3 o'clock p. m., will receive, examine and adjust all claims and demands of all persons against said deceased.—Dated May 10th, 1878.

AMOS P. PRICHARD,
my10doew1w County Judge.

COUNTY COURT, ROCK COUNTY.—In the matter of the estate of Michael Welsh, deceased.

On reading and filing the petition of Joannah Welsh, the mother of said deceased, representing that he late of the city of Janesville, in said county, died intestate on the 16th day of April, 1878, leaving property in said county, and praying that J. C. FOX, of said city, may be appointed administrator of the estate of said deceased, It is ordered that said petition be heard before this court, at the office of the judge thereof, in the city of Janesville in said county, on the 26th day of June next, at 9 o'clock a. m.

And it is further ordered, that notice of said petition and hearing be given by publishing a copy of this order for three successive weeks, once each week, prior to said hearing, in the Janesville Gazette, a daily newspaper printed and published in the said city—Dated June 4th. 1878.

AMOS P. PRICHARD,

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE For CATARRH

IN the preparation of this remarkable remedy every herb, plant, and bark is subjected to distillation, whereby the essential medical principle is obtained in vapor, condensed and bottled. What remains in the still is inert, valueless, and totally unfit for use in an organism so delicate as the nasal passages. Yet all snuffs are insoluble compounds of woody fibre; all tinctures, saturated solutions.

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE

Is a local and constitutional remedy, and is applied to the nasal passages by insufflation, thus allaying inflammation and pain and at once correcting, cleansing, and purifying the secretions. Internally administered, it acts upon the organs of circulation, keeps the skin moist, and neutralizes the acid poison that has found its way into the stomach and thence into the blood. Thus a cure progresses in both directions, and it does not seem possible for human ingenuity to devise a more rational treatment.

SURPRISING CURE.

Gentlemen.—About twelve years ago, while travelling with Father Kemp's Old Folks Concert Troupe as a tenor singer, I took a severe cold and was laid up at Newark, N.J. This cold brought on a severe attack of Catarrh, which I battled with every known remedy for four weeks without avail, and was finally obliged to give up a most desirable position and return home, unable to sing a note. For three years afterwards I was unable to sing at all. The first attack of Catarrh had left my nasal organs and throat so sensitive that the slightest cold would bring on a fresh attack, leaving me prostrated. In this way I continued to suffer. The last attack, the severest I ever had, was terrible. I suffered the most excruciating pain in my head, was so hoarse as to be scarcely able to speak, and coughed incessantly. I thought I was going into quick consumption, and I firmly believe that had these symptoms continued without relief they would have rendered me an easy victim. When in this distressing condition, I commenced the use of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE FOR CATARRH, very reluctantly, I confess, as I had tried all the advertised remedies without benefit. The first dose of this wonderful medicine gave me the greatest relief. It is hardly possible for one whose head aches, eyes ache, who can scarcely articulate distinctly on account of the choking accumulations in his throat, to realize how much relief I obtained from the first application of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE. Under its influence, both internal and external, I rapidly recovered, and by an occasional use of the remedy since, have been entirely free from Catarrh, for the first time in twelve years.

Respectfully yours,
GEO. W. HOLBROOK.

COLLINS' VOLTAIC PLASTER

An Electro-Galvanic Battery combined with a highly Medicated Plaster containing the choicest medicinal Gums and Balsams known to modern Pharmacy.

These Plasters have now been before the public for two years, and, notwithstanding the immense number of remedies in the form of liniments, lotions, pain-curers, and ordinary plasters, they have steadily increased in sale and met with universal approval, as evidenced by over one thousand unsolicited testimonials in our possession. Many remarkable cases have been certified to by well-known citizens in all parts of the United States, copies of which will be sent free of charge to any one desiring them. Improvements, in many ways, have been made, as suggested by experience and use, until it is believed that they are now perfect in every respect, and the best plaster in the world of medicine. All we ask from every sufferer in the land is a single trial. The price is 25 cents, although the cost is double that of any other plaster. But, notwithstanding the efforts of the proprietors to make the best plaster in the world for the least money, any unscrupulous dealers will be found ready to misrepresent them for selfish motives and endeavor to substitute others. If you ask for

THE GAZETTE.

FRIDAY, JUNE 7, 1878.

ON ETERNITY'S BRINK.

We had been out of court twenty-four hours, and stood eleven to one. The case was a very plain one, at least we eleven thought so. A murder of peculiar atrocity had been committed, and, though no eye witnessed the deed, circumstances pointed to the prisoner's guilt with unfailing certainty.

The recusant juror had stood out from the first. He acknowledged the cogency of the proofs, confessed his inability to reconcile the fact with the defendant's innocence, and yet, on every vote, went steadily for acquittal. His conduct was inexplicable. It could not result from a lack of intelligence; for while he spoke but little, his words were well chosen, and evinced a thorough understanding of the case.

Though still in the prime of manhood, his locks were prematurely white, and his face wore a singularly sad and thoughtful expression. He might be one of those who entertained scruples as to the right of society to inflict the death penalty. But no, it was not that; for, in reply to such a suggestion, he frankly admitted that brutal men, like the vicious brutes they resemble, must be controlled through fear; and that dread of death, the supreme terror, is, in many cases, the only adequate restraint.

At the prospect of another night of fruitless imprisonment we began to grow impatient and expostulated warmly against what seemed an unreasonable captiousness, and some not overkind remarks were indulged in as to the impropriety of trifling with an oath like that under which we were acting.

"And yet," the man answered, as though communing with himself rather than repelling the imputation, "it is a conscience that hinders my concurrence in a verdict approved by my judgment."

"How can that be?" queried several at once.

"Conscience may not always dare to follow judgment."

"But here she can know no other guide."

"I once would have said the same."

"And what has changed your opinion?"

"Experience!"

The speaker's manner was visibly agitated, and we waited in silence the explanation which he seemed ready to give. Mastering his emotion as if in answer to our look of inquiry, he continued:

"Twenty years ago I was a young man just beginning life. Few had brighter prospects, and none brighter hopes. An attachment, dating from childhood, had ripened with its object. There had been no verbal declaration and acceptance of love—no former plighting troth; but when I took my departure to seek a home in the distant west, it was a thing understood that when I had found it and put it in order she was to share it. Life in the forest, though solitary, is not necessarily lonesome. The kind of society afforded by nature, depends much on one's self. As for me, I live more in the future than in the present, and hope is an ever cheerful companion. At length the time came for making the final payment on the home which I had bought. It would henceforward be my own; and in a few more months my simple dwelling which I had spared no pains to render inviting, would be graced by its mistress.

"At the land office, which was some sixty miles off, I met my old friend George C. ——He, too, had come to seek his fortune in the west, and we were both delighted at the meeting. He brought with him, he said, a sum of money which he desired to invest in land, on which it was his purpose to settle. I expressed a strong wish to have him for a neighbor, and gave him a cordial invitation to accompany me home, giving it as my belief that he could nowhere make a better selection than in that vicinity. He readily consented and we set out together. We had not ridden many miles when George suddenly recollected a commission he had undertaken for a friend which would require his attendance at a public land sale on the following day. Exacting a promise that he would not delay his visit longer than necessary, and having given minute directions as to the route, I continued my way homeward, while he turned back.

"I was about retiring to bed on the night of my return, when a summons from without called me to the door. A stranger asked shelter for himself and his horse for the night. I invited him in. Though a stranger, his face seemed not unfamiliar. He was probably one of those I had seen at the land office, a place at that time much frequented. Offering him a seat, I went to see to his horse. The poor animal, as well as I could see by the dim starlight, seemed to have been hardly used. His panting sides bore witness of merciless riding, and a tremulous shrinking at the slightest touch betokened recent fright. On re-entering the house I found the stranger was not there. His absence excited no surprise, he would doubtless soon return. It was a little singular, however, that he should have left his watch lying on the table.

"At the end of half an hour, my guest not returning, I went again to the stable, thinking he might have found his way thither, to give personal attention to the wants of his horse. Before going out, from mere force of habit—for we were as then uninfested by thieves or policemen—I took the precaution of putting the stranger's watch in the drawer in which I kept my valuables. I found the horse as I had left him, and gave him the food he was now sufficiently cooled to eat; but his master was nowhere to be found. As I approached the house, a crowd of men on horseback dashed up, and I was commanded, in no gentle terms to 'stand.' In another moment I was in the clutches of those who claimed me as their prisoner.

"I was too much stupified at first to ask what it all meant. I did so at last, and the explanation came—it was terrible! My friend with whom I had so lately set out in company, had been found murdered and robbed near the spot at which I, and I alone, knew we had separated. I was the last person known to be with him, and I was now arrested on suspicion of being his murderer. A search of the premises was immediately instituted. The watch was found in the drawer in which I had placed it and was identified as the property of the murdered man. His horse, too, was found in my stable, for the animal I had just put there was none other. I recognized him myself when I saw him in the light. What I said I know not. My confusion was taken as additional evidence, and when I did command language to give an intelligible statement, it was received with sneers of incredulity.

"The mob spirit is inherent in men—at least in crowds of men. It may not always manifest itself in physical violence. It sometimes contents itself with lynching a character; but whatever its form it is always relentless, pitiless, cruel.

"As the proof of my guilt, one after another came to light, low mutterings gradually grew into a clamor for vengeance, and but for the firmness of one man—the officer who had me in charge—I would doubtless have paid the penalty of my supposed offence on the spot. It was not sympathy for me that actuated my protector; his heart was as hard as his office; but he represented the majesty of the law and took a sort of grim pride in the position. As much under the glance of his eyes as before the muzzle of his pistol, the cowardly clamorers drew back. Perhaps they were not sufficiently numerous to feel the full effect of that mysterious reflex influence which makes a crowd of men so much worse, and at times so much better, than any one of them singly.

"At the end of some months my trial came. It could have but one result. Circumstances too plainly declared my guilt. I alone knew they lied. The absence of the jury was very brief. To their verdict I paid but little heed. It was a single hideous word, but I had long anticipated it, and it made no impression. A little impression was made by the words of the judge which followed it, and his solemn invocation that God might have that mercy upon me which man was too just to vouchsafe, sounded like the hollowest of hollow mockeries. It may be hard for the condemned criminal to meet death if it is still harder for him who is innocent. The one, when the first shock is over, acquiesces in his doom, and gives himself to repentance; the heart of the other, filled with rebellion against man's injustice, can scarce bring itself to ask pardon of God. I had gradually overcome this feeling in spite of the good clergyman's irritating efforts, which were mainly directed towards extracting a confession, without which, he assured me, he had no hope to offer. On the morning of the day fixed for my execution I felt measurably resigned. I had so long stood face to face with death, had so long accustomed myself to look upon it as merely a momentary pang, that I no longer felt solicitous save that my memory should one day be vindicated. She for whom I had gone to prepare a home had already found one in heaven. The tidings of my calamity had broken her heart. She alone of the world believed me innocent; and she died with a prayer upon her lips that the truth might yet be brought to light. All this I had heard, and it had soothed as with sweet incense my troubled spirit. Death, however unwelcome the shape, was now a portal, beyond which I could see one angel waiting to receive me. I heard the sound of approaching footsteps, and I nerved myself to meet the expected summons. The door of my cell opened and the sheriff and his attendants entered. He held in his hand a paper. It was doubtless my death warrant. He began to read it. My thoughts were busy elsewhere. The words 'full and free pardon' were the first to strike my pre-occupied sense. They affected the bystanders more than myself. Yet it was so; I was pardoned for an offence I had never committed.

"The real culprit, none other, it is needless to say, than he who sought and abused hospitality, had been mortally wounded in a recent affray in a distant city, but had lived long enough to make a disclosure, which had been laid before the Governor barely in time to save from a shameful death and condemn me to a cheerless and burdensome life. This is my experience. My judgment, as yours, in the case before us leads to but one conclusion, that of the prisoner's guilt; but not less confident and apparently unerring was the judgment that falsely pronounced my own.

We no longer importuned our fellow juror, but impatiently awaited our discharge on the ground of inability to agree, which came at last.

The prisoner was tried and convicted at a subsequent term, and at the last moment confessed his crime on the scaffold.

VEGETINE
Is Recommended by all PHYSICIANS.

VALLEY STREAM, QUEENS CO., LONG ISLAND, N. Y.
MR. H. R. STEVENS:—

Dear Sir,—I take the pleasure of writing you a small certificate concerning Vegetine prepared by you. I have been a sufferer with the Dyspepsia for over forty years, and have had the Chronic Diarrhœa for over six months, and have tried most everything; was given up to die, and did not expect to live from day to day, and no physician could touch my case. I saw your Vegetine recommended to cure Dyspepsia. I commenced using it, and I continued doing so, and am now a well woman and restored to perfect health. All who are afflicted with this terrible disease, I would kindly recommend to try it for the benefit of their health, and it is excellent as a blood purifier. By Dr. T. B. FORBES, M. D., for
MRS. WM. H. FORBES.

VEGETINE—When the blood becomes lifeless and stagnant, either from change of weather or of climate, want of exercise, irregular diet, or from any other cause, the VEGETINE will renew the blood, carry off the putrid humors, cleanse the stomach, regulate the bowels, and impart a tone of vigor to the whole body.

VEGETINE
For Cancers and CANCEROUS HUMORS.
The Doctor's Certificate, Read it.

ASHLEY, WASHINGTON CO., ILL., Jan. 14, 1878.
MR. H. R. STEVENS:—

Dear Sir,—This is to certify that I had been suffering from a Rose Cancer on my right breast, which grew very rapidly, and all my friends had given me up to die, when I heard of your medicine, Vegetine, recommended for Cancer and Cancerous Humors. I commenced to take it, and soon found myself beginning to feel better; my health and spirits both felt the benign influence which it exerted, and in a few months from the time I commenced the use of the Vegetine, the Cancer came out almost bodily.

CARRIE DEFORREST.

I certify that I am personally acquainted with Mrs DeForest, and consider her one of our very best women. DR S H FLOWERS.

ALL DISEASES OF THE BLOOD.—If Vegetine will relieve pain, cleanse, purify, and cure such diseases, restoring the patient to perfect health after trying different physicians, many remedies, suffering for years, is it not conclusive proof, if you are a sufferer, you can be cured? Why is this medicine performing such great cures? It works in the blood, in the circulating fluid. It can truly be called the Great Blood Purifier. The great source of disease originates in the blood; and no medicine that does not act directly upon it, to purify and renovate, has any just claim upon public attention.

VEGETINE
I Regard it as a Valuable FAMILY MEDICINE.

JAN. 1, 1878.
MR. H. R. STEVENS:—

Dear Sir,—I take pleasure in saying, that I have used the Vegetine in my family with good results, and I have known of several cases of remarkable cure effected by it. I regard it as a valuable family medicine. Truly yours,
REV. WM. McDONALD.

The Rev Wm McDonald is well known through the United States as a minister in the M E church.

THOUSANDS SPEAK—VEGETINE is acknowledged and recommended by physicians and apothecaries to be the best purifier and cleanser of the blood yet discovered, and thousands speak in its praise who have been restored to health.

Sabbath School Song Books.

Good News.

(35 cents.) This charming Sabbath School Songster has won a multitude of friends, and needs no praise from those who have heard its sweet melodies. But all should try it—and be pleased; the young singers are sure to be. "It may be far;" "Beautiful Gate;" and "Hear Him calling;" are three of the 270 glad songs, which make the use of GOOD NEWS a perpetual joy.

Shining River.

(35 cents). Is a book of the same nature and general excellence as "Good News" and differs only as the tastes of composers equally good will differ. Let your girls and boys sail on this "shining river," making the way vocal with sweet and pure lyrics like "Beautiful Vale;" "Shining Land;" or "Like the Stars."

CHORAL PRAISE. (20 cents). Is a collection of Chants, Songs and short Anthems, for Episcopal Sabbath Schools. The beauty of its contents will commend it to any denomination.

Those who play the organ for Sabbath School Singing will welcome the new Clarke's
Reed Organ Melodies,
($2.50 Boards; $3. Cloth), which melodies are in true Reed Organ style, are excellent for the "organ touch" and practice, and are unusually fresh and interesting.

FRIDAY, JUNE 7, 1878.

CITY AND COUNTY.

BRIEFLETS.

—Another sprinkle.

—Temple of Honor meeting to-night.

—June doesn't get up and dust very lively.

—Mr. A. M. Mowe has gone for a ten days' trip into Iowa.

—To-morrow will be the last chance to see the phonograph.

—The water in the river has risen about four inches since yesterday.

—There will be another recital of Miss Battle's pupils next Monday evening at her rooms.

—Sol is supposed to commence shining at 4:12 in the morning, and seeks his roost at 7:45 in the evening.

—Mrs. H. N. Comstock died this morning after a lingering illness. She has resided here for years, and was generally esteemed for her womanly virtues.

—Last evening Mr. E. L. Dimock, and Mr. A. D. Wickham gave stirring addresses to an open meeting of the Grand Temple in the Court House at Portage.

—Sixty members of the Beloit Red Ribbon Club went into Newark a few evenings ago and organized a club there. They did not take Dr. McCollister with them.

—Mr. Robert James, of Milwaukee, son in-law of Hon. E. D. Holton, was in the city yesterday, looking after the interests of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railway company.

—Rev. Jenk Ll. Jones, of this city, was yesterday reelected Missionary Secretary by the Western Unitarian Conference in session in Chicago, and he was also chosen one of the delegates to the National Conference.

—A number of our citizens, and also large delegations from Brodhead and other places, went to Milwaukee yesterday to see Rarus trot and Sleepy George pace. Rain came, and prevented any races, and they returned in sadness.

—There was no quorum present at the meeting of the Boat Club last evening, and adjournment was accordingly taken until to-night, when it is hoped there will be a full attendance, as there is important business to be transacted.

—It is about time that citizens were waking up their patriotism, and making arrangements for a Fourth of July celebration. The boys are already commencing to accumulate nickles for that occasion, and the bigger boys ought to be equally enthusiastic.

—The delegates to the Catholic Temperance Union, which has been in session at Oshkosh, returned this afternoon accompanied by the St. Patrick's Total Abstinence Society Band, which gave some fine music as they marched from the depot to headquarters.

—The delegates to the Grand Council of the Temple of Honor, and to the Grand Temple in session at Portage, have returned, the session having been concluded yesterday afternoon. They are full of enthusiasm and fire, and pronounce the trip and the session a grand success.

—A quiet little wedding took place yesterday at the residence of Constable John H. Taylor, the contracting parties being his daughter Miss Henrietta A. Taylor, and Mr. Charles R. Fish. Rev. T. P. Sawin officiated. The newly married ones left for Hastings, Minnesota, where they will reside.

—More fun for the boys. This week one hundred thousand shad spawn were received at Rockford from the government commission, and yesterday were placed in Rock River. It is claimed by some, who are posted in such matters, that the shad will not thrive in fresh water, but it is now to be tried.

—The case of the State vs. Walter Brown, is being argued to-day in the Circuit Court. Mr. O. H. Fethers opened for the prosecution, and was followed by Mr. M. M. Phelps and Mr. William Smith for the defense, and District Attorney Sayle closed. The trial has created a great deal of nterest, and the court room has been well-filled.

—In accordance with time honored custom the seniors of Beloit College will give the public a chance to hear some fine music at their commencement exercises, and at their concert to be given in the evening. They have engaged for that purpose, Bach's orchestra, and Mrs. Hayden, of Milwaukee, the well known soprano, and Mr. C. A. Knorr, a Chicago tenor. They expect to engage others also.

—Mr. F. L. Tappan in arranging his museum, which he expects to throw open to the public next week, placed a prairie dog in a cage with some monkeys, and adjoining a cage occupied by a hyena. Yesterday the dog foolishly ventured into the hyena's cage, through an opening which he discovered, and was speedily dispatched The struggle was short and one-sided.

—George Reum was brought up before Justice Prichard again yesterday, and was charged with being a common drunkard. He was sentenced to thirty days in jail. A short time ago on a similar offense he was sentenced to ten days in jail, but took an appeal, gave bonds, and went forth free. He soon got drunk again, commenced abusing his family, and was again arrested with the above result. Now he wants to take another appeal, and is hunting for bondsmen.

—The Monroe Sentinel speaks as follows concerning a fact of Janesville trade, which may not be generally known by our readers: "It is not generally known, perhaps, that nearly all the flour sold in Monroe comes from Janesville. This is a fact nevertheless; and it is estimated that from three to five car loads a week are sold by our grocers and provision men. The average price of this commodity is not less than $2.50 per hundred; some of it is sold at $4.00 per hundred, and another grade at $2.80. As the profit on flour to our grocers is but 25 cents a hundred, or thereabouts, it can be seen that an immense amount of cash is sent out of the county to our neighboring city."

—Sarah Barnard, a young lady, claims that she has been wrongly treated by a young man named Joseph Wheeler, of the town of Porter, where she also resides. She is about to become a mother, and accuses the young man as her seducer. Yesterday a warrant was issued for his arrest, and Constable Drake yesterday afternoon brought him in before Justice Balch. The case was continued until June 14, the defendant being required to give $500 bonds for his appearance, and in default to stand committed to jail. Wheeler claims that he is entirely innocent, and that the accusation is a "put-up job." Both parties are well known in the vicinity where they reside, and are of highly respected families.

—The Red Ribbon Club has concluded to change its plans and wholly reorganize. At the original organization forty different officers were elected, many of whom have never accepted or served in the positions assigned them. The Club now propose to reduce the number of officers, elect new ones, and in fact form an entirely new organization. The project of occupying Ehle's hall has been abandoned, and the Club will probably meet hereafter in the rooms of the Young Men's Association. Arrangements have been made for a meeting there next Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock, at which time Rev. T. Clithero will give an address. Next Wednesday night the club will hold a meeting at the same rooms for the purpose of revising the by-laws and starting out afresh with new officers.

OBITUARY.

MRS. W. M. TALLMAN.

Mrs. Emeline Tallman, relict of Mr. Wm. M. Tallman, died this afternoon at about 1 o'clock. She has been in ill health for years, and for a week or more past has been dangerously ill, so that her death did not come wholly unexpected, and yet it falls upon the bereaved ones with no less heaviness, and no lighter sorrow. Mrs. Tallman was born in Hartford county, Connecticut, being the second daughter of Norman and Ruth Dexter, and was married to Mr. Tallman at New Haven, in 1831. With her husband she came to Janesville in 1850, where the family have since resided. She has been a highly honored member of the Congregational church for over forty years, joining first at Rome, New York, and removing her membership to the church here, when she took up her residence in this city.

Not yet a month has passed since Mrs. Tallman was called on to mourn the death of her husband, he having died May 13. The loss of a mother following so soon upon the death of a father falls heavily upon the sons, William H. Tallman and Edgar D. Tallman, and in their double bereavement they will receive the sympathy of the entire community, in which the family have so long occupied a prominent and respected position. The news of Mrs. Tallman's death will be received with sadness, as the home circle has not only met with an irreparable loss, but society and church also have lost an honored and faithful member.

THE TALKING MACHINE.

The phonograph has been set up in the store lately occupied by Mr. Isaac Farnsworth and is prepared to talk back to any and all who visit it. It is a wonderful invention, but of course has not reached its greatest perfection yet. Those who go to see it expecting that it will catch up any and all sounds issued anywhere in the room, and send them forth again, in stentorian tones, will be somewhat disappointed. The speaker must place his mouth close to the phonograph, and utter words with considerable force and distinctness. It then reproduces them as many times as may be desired, with a clearness and distinction which will enable any one to distinguish the words, at a few feet distance. The sound which it produces resembles more the tones of a ventriloquist than the natural voice of the person who first uttered the words. A whistle or other shrill sound is reproduced with remarkable clearness, and the machine really talks back in a way which makes it hard to realize that it is not a thing of life. The invention is well worth seeing, for it is a remarkable one. In its present form it is of course not of any great practical value, but if it can be perfected as Mr. Edison promises, it will become more than a mere curiosity. It is being visited by many, and none need go away without receiving a full explanation of its workings, which are as simple as they are wonderful.

FESTAL FOLKS.

The colored people had an interesting entertainment at Lappin's hall last evening which was largely attended by the citizens generally. Rev. Mr. Scales, the colored minister who has been laboring so zealously for some time to organize a church here, stated the object of the gathering, and spoke of the plans which were on foot for establishing a church here. Hon. H. A. Patterson spoke encouragingly of the progress made by the colored people, and bid God-speed to their enterprise. Mayor Norcross also made a few well-timed remarks. Some old plantation songs were given by Rev. Mr. Scales assisted by others. Miss. Wilson, of Harvard, sang a solo. Refreshments were generously served to all who chose to partake, and who were in return allowed to contribute to the good cause such amounts as they deemed best. The tables were finely arrayed and decorated with flowers. As a whole the entertainment was an enjoyable one, and those having the matter in charge deserve great credit for the success which attended their efforts. It was expected that there would be delegates of colored people present from several of the adjacent towns, but owing to the inclement weather, they were in this disappointed. The Society will probably net about $50 from the entertainment.

THE WEATHER.

The thermometer at 7 o'clock this morning stood at 63 degrees above zero and at 2 o'clock at 69 degrees above. Cloudy and showery. One year ago to-day at corresponding hours the thermometer stood at 65 and 76 degrees above.

The indications to-day are, for the lake region, falling barometer, rising and stationary temperature, increasing southeast to northeast winds, partly cloudy and cloudy weather, frequent rains and local storms, followed over the upper lakes by rising barometer and cooler northerly winds.

YOUNG NIGHT-OWLS.

During the progress of the "Bazar of Nations," the festival given at the Baptist church, the utmost watchfulness was exercised to prevent any theft being committed, and at night the church was zealously guarded by young men, who slept therein, as a great many valuable articles and rare curiosities were lent the society for exhibition. The first night Mr. Stanley Smith and Mr. B. F. Dunwiddie were on guard, and nothing occurred to mar the peacefulness of the spot, except just before they retired, some tramps entered the church, but they were summarily ejected, and the doors bolted against them. Thursday night Mr. Will Webster and Mr. Arthur Conant were on guard. About 4 o'clock yesterday morning they heard a noise which awakened them to a realization that there were burglars in the church. They spied two young men coming down the stairs which lead from the auditorium above, into the Sunday School room, and by the light recognized them as acquaintances and young men connected with respectable families of this city. Both parties were greatly surprised at the mutual recognition. One of the fellows turned and fled, and the other said he wanted to find a diary that he had lost there the previous evening, and also get a little ice-cream. He was allowed to go in peace, those on guard disliking to enter complaint against either of the intruders. It appears that these young men crawled along the abutment on the outside of the church until they reached an unfastened window, through which they gained entrance to the main vestibule, and from there came down the stairs into the Sunday School room. The manner of entrance, and the time of night, make the excuses offered seem very gauzy, and all the circumstances indicate that the young prowlers were bent on mischief If the facts are as stated, it is a mistaken charity which prevents any formal complaint being entered against them, as they doubtless will not stop their prowlings until the hand of the law is sometime laid upon them.

THE TURF.

The Milwaukee races were postponed yesterday on account of rain.

At St. Louis yesterday fully 12,000 people witnessed the races. The one for all ages for the Gardner cup had six starters. Dan K., was the favorite, but Harkaway won easily in his straight heats in 1:43 and 1:42½. This was officially pronounced the fastest race with weights up, ever run in America. Harkaway is a black stallion, four years old, owned by J. A. Patterson, of Edenburg, Illinois. He was bred by Gen. Buford, of Kentucky, sired by Enquirer, dam by Ruric, and carried one hundred and fifty pounds.

A MILWAUKEE CAFE.

The Plankinton House in Milwaukee, which has always taken a high rank among the hotels of the west, has added still further to its means for accommodating the travelling public by fitting up a cafe, conducted on the European plan, where meals or lunches can be had at reasonable rates, the patrons paying for only what they get. Those who prefer to take a room and get their meals according to their own bill-of-fare, can thus be provided for. This feature is a commendable one and the cafe will doubtless meet with the liberal patronage which it merits. Colonel Sherman seems determined to add to the comforts of his guests in all ways, and to arrange all the appointments of his hotel so that the public can be accommodated in every particular.

"Dobbins' Electric Soap."

Having obtained the agency of this celebrated Soap for Janesville and vicinity, I append the opinion of some of our best people to its merits.

I have washed with Dobbins' Electric Soap made by I. L. Cragin & Co., Philadelphia, Pensylvania, and pronounce it the best soap I have ever used. The rapidity and ease with which it enables one to do ones washing is really surprising. Boiling the clothes is entirely unnecessary and no rubbing is needed. I would not be without it. NELLIE KENNISTON.

I have no hesitation in saying that no housekeeper should be without Dobbins' Electric Soap. I can heartily recommend it, it is a charm in the washtub. ELIZA P. LELAND.

As a time, labor and money saving article, I take pleasure in recommending Dobbins' Electric Soap to my neighbors. It promises wonders and does all it promises. MARY YEOMANS.

I take pleasure in calling attention to the testimonials, as we have just made arrangements with the manufacturers in Philadelphia, so that we can supply the trade at their lowest Philadelphia price. GEORGE W. HAWES, Sole Agent.

An Undeniable Truth.

You deserve to suffer, and if you lead a miserable, unsatisfactory life in this beautiful world, it is entirely your own fault and there is only one excuse for you,—your unreasonable prejudice and skepticism, which has killed thousands. Personal knowledge and common sense reasoning, will soon show you that Green's August Flower will cure you of Liver Complaint, or Dyspepsia, with all its miserable effects, such as sick headache, palpitation of the heart, sour stomach, habitual costiveness, dizziness of the head, nervous prostration, low spirits, &c. Its sales now reach every town on the Western Continent and not a Druggist but will tell you of its wonderful cures. You can buy a Sample Bottle for 10 cents. Three doses will relieve you. dec1deod-weow6m

Womanly Elegance and Grace.

There are few among our fair readers who would not gladly possess the rosy complexion, the beautiful form, the cheerfulness and elasticity of spirits, that good health always imparts. Parker's Ginger Tonic will restore these feminine attributes to thousands whose shattered constitutions are due to functional derangement. It radically cures Dyspepsia, gives tone to the enfeebled organs, dissipates Headache, Neuralgia and Nervousness, relieves painful Periods, and safely establishes regularity of the female functions. It soothes the nerves, imparts ease and strength to mothers themselves, and through the milk to their nursing babes, prevents the Nausea and Constipation peculiar to ladies in a delicate condition, and greatly relieves the sufferings of this period. It acts like a charm on the digestive machinery, speedily counteracts the weakening effects on the bowels of excessive heat, injudicious diet, or impure water, and is warranted to cure the worst forms of Colic, Cramps, Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Bloody Flux, Cholera Infantum, and even Asiatic Cholera if taken in time. Buy a $1.00 bottle of your druggist, A. J. Roberts, or a sample bottle at 15 cents, and test its extraordinary merits. apr9daweowtjune24

"There has been but little change in the market since our circular of May 15th. Trade continues quiet without much further weakening in prices. Dealers seem disposed to close out old stock at some concession, but buyers prefer to await the arrival of new wools, the purchase of which is hardly as yet fairly under way in the central and eastern wool-growing districts. There is at present one fact to be particularly considered which is the large proportion of the machinery of the country now lying idle, occasioned either by the bankruptcy of its owners or more generally by their desire to avoid bankruptcy, which is a mere matter of time if they continue to manufacture for a market which seems unable to relieve itself of over supply even at the unprofitable and continually falling prices now ruling for manufactured goods. As it is impossible to sufficiently augment the demand for dry goods at present, the curtailment of supply by the temporary stoppage of machinery is certainly the true remedy for the disorder, and, although this more than any other cause has occasioned the present low prices for raw material, yet it must eventuate in ultimate benefit to all in the establishment of a healthy market for wool on a sound basis.

The small lots of wool which have thus far arrived here have been readily sold to meet immediate requirements, and, while there is certainly nothing in the present situation to justify the anxiety to compete strongly in buying which has already been apparent in some sections, yet if shippers can purchase the clip of the growers at figures which will give them a fair margin of profit at our present quotations we believe it will prove a safe season for operators and that the tendency between this and another clip will be on the side of improvement. Sales of domestic wools for the month foot up about 2,000,000 pounds, and the receipts are stated at 1,000,000 pounds."

REMOVAL

Isaac Farnsworth

Has this day removed the balance of his stock to the store of Mr. John Wingate, No. 39 West Milwaukee Street, where he will be pleased to see his friends, and all those desiring to secure bargains in Dry Goods will do well to call, as I am bound to close out the entire stock in a very few days, and in order to do so shall sell all goods very cheap.

I have still a very desirable assortment of White Goods, of all kinds, which will be sold at great sacrifice in order to close them out; also Laces and Lace Goods, Notions, Hosiery, Flannels, &c., &c.

Remember the place, viz., the Crockery Store of J. H. Wingate, No. 39 West Milwaukee Street, and be sure and call early and secure bargains.
